HAPPY NEW YEAR

NEW YEAR'S EVE REGATTA: 15th Anniversary On The Horizon

A popular sailing tradition in Saint Barth is the New Year's Eve Regatta, which will celebrate its 15th anniversary on December 31, 2009. An anticipated fleet of 30 to 35 sailboats will participate in this annual around-the-island race, which is open to all boats of all shapes and sizes: in fact the speed record of 1 hour 31 minutes and 6 seconds set in 2006 is held by French sailor Claude Tellier and his 60' Orma trimaran, the Région Guadeloupe. In the mono-hull class, the boat to beat is the 2004 winner, the 147' Baltic yacht, Visione, which completed the course in 1 hour, 32 minutes, 7 seconds.

2008 New Year's Eve Regatta with the winning 82' Swan, Capo Giro, leading the pack

When the boats head out to the starting line on the morning of December 31, 2009, the one to keep an eye on is the new 137' J-Class replica, Hanuman, a replica of Endeavour II built in 1937.

Hanuman (named after the Hindu monkey god) was designed by naval architects, Dykstra & Partners, built at the Royal Huisman shipyard, and launched in March 2009.

Also expected in the fleet this year: Hyperion, a 156' Royal Huisman yacht; Selene, a Swan 80; and maybe both of the 76' W-Class boats, Wild Horses or White Wings. Local entries should include Lil'E, Speedy Nemo, Corban (a Swan 42), and Baladin.

The Saint Barth Yacht Club, the Port of Gustavia, and the Collectivity of Saint Barth primarily organize the event, with Mark Del Guidice (who lived on the island for 14 years and has sailed in every edition of to date) lending a hand to Markku Harmala, Annalisa Gee, and Jean-Paul Berry from the SBYC. "This is not a corporate event with an entry fee. The only advertising is word of mouth, which keeps it friendly and informal," notes Del Guidice. "The spirit of the race is that it's open to everyone from 24' to 147' boats who gather together for an event that is part of the Saint Barth sailing season, from the skippers' meeting to the awards ceremony, with a great regatta to ring in the New Year."

THE YACHT CLUB HOSTS THE JEAN ROCH VIP ROOM

One of the highlights of the holiday season in Saint Barth: Jean-Roch, known as “the king of the night,” will host his famous VIP ROOM from December 25 through January 10. These 16 exceptional nights of partying will take place only at the Yacht Club complex in Gustavia.

Jean-Roch is an international DJ. Part of his renown comes from his VIP ROOM in St. Tropez, Paris, Cannes, and London, but this year he has decided to spend the holiday season in Saint Barth. But not on vacation!

He is the special guest of Carole, owner of the Yacht Club complex. This new space, which includes the YACHT CLUB (restaurant, sushi bar, boutique) and the VIP ROOM with two dance floors, was recently redesigned and spruced up for the holidays. Every evening, 500 lucky guests will be able to enjoy the fabulous ambiance created by Carole and Jean-Roch: the best of the DJ’s, the biggest stars, and the best champagne.

An unusual career

Nicknamed “the king of the night,” Jean-Roch must also be a businessman. The creator and founder of numerous nightclubs, he is also a composer. And DJ. In less than a year, he made his mark with a mix of house, soul, rock, and hip-hop: An explosive musical cocktail. His special relationships with artists and show business personalities allowed him to launch the VIP ROOM concept in the best nightclubs. He also pays attention to even the smallest detail, from merchandise to design, and marketing of his company.

In 2005, he released his first single: “Can You Feel It,” which was a success, followed three years later by “God Bless Rock and Roll.” Last June, he published his anthology of 20 years of clubbing as a double album, “VIP ROOM 20TH ANNIVERSARY.” Quite an accomplishment!

URBAN PLANNING MAP REVEALED

The island's territorial council revealed its proposed map for "zoning" on an island where officially there is no zoning! The population had the right to comment from July 20 through September 15, at which time there were more than 400 observations recorded. The biggest issue is the desire to build in zones that remain protected or "green" on the map.

LOCAL PRESSURE TO MAINTAIN NATURAL ZONES

Three local environmental protection associations—Saint Barth Environment, Essential Saint Barth, and the Association For The Protection of Birds—started a petition to protect three large “green” zones on the island, where building permits have been requested. By October 5, the petition garnered 1,185 signatures, enough to ask the Territorial Council to hold a popular referendum. On December 17, the prefecture endorsed the executive council’s decision to reject the petition on the grounds that those zones are already protected on the planning map.

PHASE I OF EPHAD BEGUN

Construction began for an EPHAD, or medical facility for senior citizens who need assistance, next to the De Bruyn Hospital in Gustavia. The facility is expected to open within the next three years.

REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION CREATED

The goal of the new real estate agencies association in Saint Barth, which currently has 10 members, is to help promote the island, offer better services for clients, provide industry training, improve communications, and ensure good professional practices on the island. Bertrand Labou rie is the first president.

September 25

ECO-HOTEL PROPOSED IN SALINE

Hotel tycoon Andr  Balazs has his sights set on a six-star “ecology-based” luxury hotel in Saline, and came to the island to present his plans to local politicians and representatives of the three environmental protection associations. This project is highly controversial as some of the land is located in a “green” zone behind the dunes on Saline beach and would have to be reclassified for construction.

Rudolf Nureyev

Jean Luc Lafont

Twenty years ago... A Tribute to Rudolph Nureyev

*Here, I live with the sea
Here, I know no master
Here, I enjoy total freedom!*

The sea regards us forever

A bedroom at the Nureyev House

*"St Barth,
the audacity of a pilot and the wisdom of a fisherman."
Jean Pierre Audy*

*It was 20 years ago that Rudolph Nureyev acquired his house on the windward coast of Saint Barth.
Twenty years later it still bears his name and most probably contains the better part of his soul!*

*On January 6, 1993, a star was extinguished from the galaxy of men, said French Cultural Minister Jack Lang.
For a half century, Rudolph Nureyev was one of our most brilliant stars and illuminated the world's most prestigious stages with his charisma, his genius, and his passion for dance.*

He was born in 1938 aboard the Trans-Siberian railroad in the region of Lake Baikal. His childhood and adolescence were spent in Ufa, the capital of the Soviet Republic of Bashkiria, where he took classical dancing lessons at the Ufa Opera House.

Many years later, almost on the exact day of this famous dancer's birthday, Jeanne Audy-Rowland was welcomed by a cultural delegation in the city of Ufa. They presented her with an honorary title in honor of her support of the Ufa Opera House and her dedication to Rudolph Nureyev.

This was not just by chance of course, since the Nureyev House, on the windward coast of the island, is now under the loving care of Jeanne Audy-Rowland, who like a disciple has dedicated herself to his memory in almost a mythical manner, so that each room honors this great artist; from his origins to his simple, yet elegant taste. With the sea as her guide,

Jeanne spiritually questioned the master of the house and the island's skillful artisans who had meticulously executed every little detail in what was to become a very exceptional place: the Nureyev House.

A refuge for free souls like Rudolph Nureyev, to whom we pay tribute for his presence on our island... starting 20 years ago.

WILL ST BARTH BECOME A PTOM?

Only one vote against the territorial council's decision to ask the French government to allow the island to become a PTOM (overseas countries and territories) rather than remain a RUP (or ultra peripheral region): this new status would mean that not all European laws are applied to the island. It did not take long for an answer from Paris: On November 6, the government announced it would "support and accompany the transformation Saint Barthélemy into a PTOM."

■ Puzzle  www.sudokustar.fr

There's no math involved. The grid has numbers, but nothing has to add up to anything else. You solve the puzzle with reasoning and logic. It's fun. It's challenging. It's addictive! "Fill in the grid so that every row, every column, and every 3x3 box contains the digits 1 through 9." That's all there is to it.
