NORTHERN CARIBBEAN ISLANDS CREATE TOURISM ALLIANCE

After brewing for a long time, a new tourism alliance comprising the six northern Caribbean islands of Saint Barthélemy, Saint Martin, Sint Maarten, Saint Eustache, Saba, and Anguilla, is about to come to fruition. The heads of the tourist offices on these islands met during the SMART salon at the Radisson Hotel in St Martin last May to move this project forward, as a follow up to three prior meetings held in Sint Maarten, Saint Barth, and Anguilla. This new alliance will be called OTANC, (Tourism Organization For the Northern Islands Archipelago). “The goal is to develop Princess Juliana Airport as a regional hub,” explains Inès Bouchaut-Choisy, director of the Saint Barth Territorial Tourism Committee (CTTSB). “We want to encourage the airlines to continue or increase their service to Saint Martin by illustrating that a wide choice of tourist destinations can be reached via that airport.” The respective island authorities, including the executive council of the Collectivity of Saint Barthélemy, must validate OTANC's by-laws.

OTANC will be based in Saint Barthélemy, where the CTTSB will coordinate this inter-island venture. For example, the CTTSB originated the idea of welcome desks to help passengers in transit at Princess Juliana Airport. Initially the idea was to build four such spaces for Saint Barthélemy, Saint Martin, Sint Maarten, and Anguilla, but Saba and Saint Eustache have expressed their interest as well. These counters will be located right after immigration control, across from the baggage registration area for transit passengers with checked luggage. Saba and Saint Eustache, as well as Saint Martin and Sint Maarten, wish to have joint spaces, while Saint Barth and Anguilla have opted for individual counters.

The tourist offices are also interested in expanding their data about visitors who land at Princess Juliana, to better target their marketing campaigns. With this in mind, the CTTSB has instigated a new immigration form for visitors that indicates their final destination, if they are going on a cruise, to a hotel, or a yacht, and if they are residents of one of the six islands. Plus the type, and even the name, of their accommodations: villa or hotel. The long-term goal of the CTTSB is to create a tourism observatory to more effectively collect and analyze such data.

Two New Flights Between St Martin And The Americas

The 11th edition of the SMART salon last May at the Radisson Blu Resort Marina & Spa in Saint Martin allowed tourism pros from 12 islands within a one-hour flight of Princess Juliana Airport to collaborate. Anguilla, Antigua, Barbuda, Dominique, Guadeloupe, Montserrat, Saba, Saint Eustache, Saint Kitts and Nevis were represented, along with Saint Barthélemy and its Territorial Tourism Committee (CTTSB).

delegation, accompanied by a representative of Copa Airlines, which links South America to Saint Martin.

During the salon, two airlines announced new flights to Princess Juliana Airport, the hub for many nearby islands. As of December 15, Delta Airlines will have a direct flight on a Boeing 757 from New York, leaving JFK every Saturday at 9:05am and arriving in Saint Martin at 2:15pm; the return flight leaves Saint Martin at 3:15pm and lands at JFK at 6:05pm. In addition, Insel Air, based Curaçao, announced a new route between Saint Martin and Caracas. While the launch date is yet to be determined, the idea is to encourage tourists from Venezuela to discover the northern Caribbean archipelago.

The intent of this salon is for tourism professionals to meet with tour operators. This year there were “buyers” from Switzerland, Scandinavia, Holland, Canada, the United States, and even Peru. Coming from Lima, the Peruvians then made a visit to Saint Barthélemy. On June 24, the CTTSB hosted an Argentinean

THE ST BARTH FAMILY FESTIVAL HEATS UP

One of the hot spots of the summer is the fourth annual St Barth Family Festival, July 27-August 25. Organized by Carole Gruson, this festival attracts a big “family” of those for whom Saint Barth rhymes with party, before Gruson’s legendary night spots, the Yacht Club and Ti St Barth close for vacation in September. At the “Ti,” there is something happening every night throughout the month-long event, starting on Friday, July 27 and Saturday, July 28, with a Rock Star party, while Friday, August 3 is dedicated to “Pirates Of The Caribbean,” and Saturday, August 4, Gruson’s popular White Party. On Friday, August 10 and Saturday, August 11, the celebrated Claude Challe, founder of the Buddha Bar, and his music compilations of the same name, presents the pleasures of the Far East with The Arabian Nights. A Roman theme on Friday, August 17 and Saturday, August 18 promises a spectacle bathed in antiquity. All of the events start at approximately 10pm, and are preceded by a fashion show at 9:30pm. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings are cabaret revues with dancers. A Closing Party winds things down on Friday and Saturday, August 24 and 25.

Once the lights go out at Ti St-Barth it’s time to head to the Yacht Club in Gustavia, where acclaimed DJs take their turn spinning music for the dance floor. Regulars at the Yacht Club will recognize some of the names, while Moody Mike makes his Saint Barth debut. Hip Hop and Electro specialists are on deck Tuesday, August 14 and Friday, August 17, with DJ Willer opening the Yacht Club festivities on Friday, August 17, with Andy Myler, Saturday, August 28 and Tuesday, August 31, Cut Killer on Friday, August 3, DJ Niki Belucci on Saturday, August 4, DJ Will, resident DJ at Milliardaire in Paris, on Tuesday, August 7, and DJ Mister T on Friday, August 10. On Saturday, August 18, DJ Will is at the turntables, then Andy Myler on Tuesday, August 21, while DJ Outkast takes charge for the finale on Saturday, August 25. Every Monday evening, Greg Baker relives the funk and disco fever of Studio 54, while Wednesday evenings have a Caribbean ambiance with “Let The People Talk” evenings concocted by DJ Eyedol. On Thursdays, DJs Ben and Andy Myler delve deep into House Music.

Once again this year, the St Barth Family Festival features a Pool Party at the Guanahani Hotel & Spa, on Sunday, August 5, with DJ Niki Belucci in appropriate poolside attire. Two Garden Parties are on the program, Sundays August 12 and 19 at the Tamarin where the order of the day is a chill-out barbecue: the first featuring Claude Challe; the second in the hands of the Ti St Barth resident DJs Ben, Frank N, and Jeremix. With such a great lineup, one might ask why the St Barth Family Festival doesn’t last all year long?

Moody Mike

Originally from Guadeloupe, Moody Mike is a Hip Hop artist who forged his turntable culture in the battle of the DJs. Highly technical, Moody Mike reigned in local “scratch” competitions before moving up in stature. In 2004 he finished in second place as the best French DJ in the world championships held in Lille. Acclaimed for his golden fingers, doors opened easily for him, and he was the official DJ for the NRJ

Music Awards in Cannes, two years later. Moody Mike also began to collaborate with such French rap artists as Rohff, before launching his own productions, which brought him the notoriety he enjoys today. With his mix of Hip Hop, R&B, and Electro, Moody Mike shows off his talents on Tuesday, August 14 and Friday, August 17 at the Yacht Club.

Cut Killer

Who hasn't heard his mix of Edith Piaf and KRS One, made popular in the score for the film, La Haine, by Mathieu Kassowitz? A pioneer of this genre, veteran Cut Killer is one of the godfathers of French Hip Hop, but his talent is not limited to France. Still active, Cut Killer is popular on the international scene and has mixed with DJ Big Dawg Pitbulls of Funkmaster Flex, and the Shadyville DJs of 50 Cent. Cut Killer has several gold and platinum records made in collaboration with his partner DJ Abdel. He has also produced over 20 successful mix albums. Cut Killer returns to the turntables of the Yacht Club, on Friday, August 3.

DJ Will

Whipping the crowd on the dance floor into action, DJ Will is a master mixer. He is the resident DJ at Milliardaire in Paris, and can also be found at the turntables of such prestigious clubs as Doobies, the Secret Square, or the VIP Room, after jumpstarting his career at the celebrated Bains Douches. DJ Will is equally adept at mixing Hip Hop, and ensured the success of French tour parties for Snoop Dog, Angie Stone, and Boyz II Men. In addition to his regular Parisian gigs, DJ Will appears in clubs around the world, from Rio de Janeiro to Shanghai, by way of Saint Barth of course. He commands the turntables at the Yacht Club on Tuesday, August 7 and Saturday, August 18.

FRANÇOIS TRESSIÈRES NEW ROTARY CLUB PRESIDENT

François Tressières was sworn in as president of the The Saint Barth Rotary Club during a dinner held on June 8 at Indigo at Guanahani Hotel & Spa in Grand Cul-de-Sac. Special guests included Saint Barth senator Michel Magras, Joseph Le Plain, representing the prefecture of Saint Barthélemy, and James Ferris, assistant governor of Rotary Club District 7020.

Outgoing president Venise Roche Gréaux reported on the activities of the club over the past few years, thanking all those who have helped, before turning the reins over to Tressières. The past year comprised a special

Christmas project for 60 people who are handicapped or need medical assistance, and were given a little gift and a card made by students at the island's various schools, while 17 residents in need received holiday baskets. The club also held its annual rummage sale and culinary fair, while its overseas activities continue to support Haiti, as well as an operation to fight famine for children in Africa, and the ongoing fight against polio.

Tressières confirmed new projects, such as participation in the creation of a playground on the site of the ranch in Gouverneur. To help fund their numerous and worthwhile projects, the Rotary Club has announced a fund-raising gala including an auction on Friday, December 14, 2012.
