CHARLES VERE NICOLL BUYS LE TOINY

Le Toiny has a new owner. As announced last week, Charlie and Mandie Vere Nicoll, with a group of friends and family, have purchased the five-star hotel, after it was on the market for almost a year. Since 2006, it was owned by a group of American investors, ESD Holdings. The sale was completed and the paperwork signed on Wednesday, February 11 in the offices of Sibarth Real Estate, which had the exclusive sales contract (the amount of the sale has not been made public). In association with AJ Capital Partners, Charlie Vere Nicoll, who is also the vicar at the island's Anglican Church, was formerly the owner of the Saint-Barth Isle de France, until that five-star property on the beach in Flamands was sold to LVMH, in the summer of 2013. At Le Toiny, Vere Nicoll's staff includes Charlie Walker, who was formerly the manager at the Isle de France for 12 years. Walker has replaced Guy and Dagmar Lombard as managing director at Le Toiny. Luc Lanza, a former member of the senior management team at the Eden Rock hotel, has joined the staff as general manager of Le Toiny.

As Vere Nicoll noted in a press release: "We are thrilled to be the new custodians of this fabulous property and we have some exciting plans for the hotel which we are sure will make Le Toiny an even more wonderful experience for the guests and make an important contribution to island life here in this extraordinary jewel of an island, Saint Barthélemy," he enthuses. "I am thrilled by our new management team, with whom I have worked for many years and much look forward to an exciting future for all who work at the hotel and for our guests past, present, and future."

A complete refurbishment of the hotel, part of the prestigious Relais & Chateaux group, is planned for later in 2015. Other projects will be announced for the future.

SBIPOA MEETING ON FEBRUARY 19

The Saint Barth International Property Owners Association will meet on Thursday, February 19 at Le Brigantin in Gustavia at 5:30pm. The speaker is Dr. Gilles Alayrangues with an update on the De Bruyn hospital, the new CT scanner, general health care on the island, and the issues concerning chikungunya and dengue fever. All members who have paid their dues for this year, and those interested in joining the association are welcome to attend.

THE UNKNOWN

Through the month of April, Art Saint-Barth and Eden Rock Gallery present The Unknown, a group show including photos by Robert Mapplethorpe.

Another exceptional art exhibit in Saint Barth, where such events take place on a regular basis these days as Saint Barth has been proclaimed an “island of art.” The association Art Saint-Barth and Eden Rock Gallery at the five-star hotel in Saint Jean, are opening a new show on Friday, February 20, which runs through April 20 with works by Robert Mapplethorpe, George Condo, Jasper Johns, Jack Pierson, Thomas Ruff, Liu Bolin, and Michael Dweck. It wasn’t just luck that brought this exhibit to Saint Barth but a confluence of elements, including the pluck of Philippe Combres of Art Saint-Barth, who has spent the past two years promoting contemporary art on the island, plus the desire of owners David and Jane Matthews, and the new general manager Fabrice Moizan, to open their doors to artists, and the presence of collectors in Saint Barth whose walls are adorned with quality pieces. The work in this show are from private collections, and include four photographs by Robert Mapplethorpe, one of the world’s best-known art photographers, who passed away in 1989. His stylized black and white portraits of male nudes are iconic and were seen as part of a retrospective at Le Grand Palais in Paris last year. One of his most famous photographs, two male heads in profile that was on the cover of his 2007 monograph, is in this show.

The Unknown evokes a work by American artist Jack Pierson, who is also part of the exhibit. “In a society where everything should be preplanned, mapped out, and calculated, art is the one place where the unknown can still exist,” observes Combres. The exhibit also comprises a black and white nude by photographer Michael Dweck, a well-known work by Chinese artist Liu Bolin, an American painting by George Condo, and an abstract piece by German artist Thomas Ruff, as well as a print by Jasper Johns, whose work is also on display at the museum in Gustavia through late March. These pieces are not only in the Eden Rock Gallery, now upstairs at the hotel, but also in the reception area and public spaces.

Gery Langlais: Pastels Of Saint Barth

“The nature in Saint Barth is magical, especially the vegetation with a mix of cactus and old trees—the contrast is incredible,” notes Gery Langlais, a French painter who spends part of each winter in Saint Barth, and whose annual travels also take him to Brittany and Bali, each place inspiring his work in a different way. His annual exhibit at Les Artisans in Gustavia opens on Friday, February 20 with a varied collection of approximately 25 new and older works.

This year there is different sense of color in some of Langlais’ paintings, which once again are created using pastels, which he feels “capture the light and give my work a luminosity I like.” His palette is a bit bolder and darker, with more orange, especially in the sky, as if the artist ventured out to enjoy the light of the late afternoon and fiery sunsets, rather than just the clear blue skies of morning also seen in some of his work. “I like to capture the light between dusk and twilight, that adds a magical touch,” he says.

But it is clear that Langlais, whose training ranges from architecture to the beaux arts, is still as taken by the light and landscapes of the island as he was the first time he saw Saint

Barth—and fell in love with its rocky coastlines, cactus-covered hillsides, and traditional architecture. New this year are pastels of the airport, a view from Grand Fond toward Petite Saline, Le Select with Marius at this favorite table inside, Shell Beach, Le Select with local musicians playing in the garden, Anse des Cayes, a full moon over Grand Cul de Sac, the salt pond in Saline, Marigot Bay, Ile Coco, a “petit case” on the way down to Gouverneur, a traditional house painted tropical blue, Eden Rock, and a majestic mango tree in a garden in Colombier.

His collection also includes images of the Port of Gustavia and small sailboats bobbing off the shore of Pointe Milou... all part of an exploration of the island as caught by the eye of a very talented painter.

A MENAGERIE BY NICOLE ETIENNE

A zany collection of animals is on display at Space SBH Gallery in the form of paintings by Nicole Etienne. Her exhibit, titled Menagerie, runs through February 24, and includes a sumptuous feast of animals, color, beauty, and opulence, as is characteristic of her style. The compositions feature exotic animals—such as a zebra— set in what would otherwise be ordinary but elegant interiors, setting the scene for the animals to create a beautiful sense of chaos. Or as defined in the French-language "Methodical Encyclopedia" of 1782, this artistic menagerie is the "establishment of luxury and curiosity." And like the travelling collections that once exhibited wild animals at fairs across Europe and the Americas, Etienne's paintings are seen in galleries around the world.

A fourth-generation artist born in Santa Cruz, California, she currently lives and works in London UK. Her work is regularly exhibited internationally and found in many private collections. She earned her Masters Degree in 2009 at the New York Academy of Art (cum laude) and was an artist in residence at the Eden Rock hotel in Saint Barth in 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, and 2013.

LA TERRASSE: A NEW BAR IN GUSTAVIA

The newest addition to Carole's Places, La Terrasse opened on Sunday, January 25, 2015, joining Carole Gruson's collection of hip bars and eateries in Saint Barth, which includes the Yacht Club in Gustavia and Le Ti St Barth in Pointe Milou. This bar/lounge is the perfect place to perch and enjoy a view of the Port of Gustavia, with champagne, cocktails, and finger food available. La Terrasse is actually part of the Yacht Club and is open from 7pm to 11pm, Tuesday to Sunday, with happy hour from 7pm to 8pm, Tuesday to Friday. Since opening in January, La Terrasse has featured a series of special events, including speed dating followed by a Zouk Love party on Valentine's Day. There have also been After Sunset parties with live music, "happiness and good vibes" provided by musicians Papaguyo (percussion) and Pierre Nesta (guitar), and DJs such as Gregory Baker and Julian O'Keefe mixing things up after 11pm. There will be another "live" concert on Sunday, February 22 at 8pm. Referred to as "a magical spot" right on the waterfront, La Terrasse has a relaxed atmosphere and a light menu including gazpacho, veggies and dips, cheese and charcuterie platters, various kinds of bruschetta, bacon cheeseburgers, homemade French fries, and assorted desserts. For additional information: www.caroleplaces.com or check Facebook yachtclub.stbarth for event listings at La Terrasse.
